

In more than ten years of existence the Centre for European Studies in Iași mainly focused on looking for an identity in the Romanian changing environment of education and research.

The priority has been the development of European dimension of the "Al. I. Cuza" University and the contribution to integrate the academic education into the European education and research.

The Centre promotes and co-ordinates multidisciplinary curricula, research projects, initiatives and events focusing on Europe and encouraging new approaches to the study of an area whose contours are constantly being redefined.
